PyCon Australia 2019

Conference Overview

PyCon Australia is the national conference for developers using the Python Programming Language.

Python is a high-level programming language, used widely in the ICT community, including industry, science, government and education. As an open source programming language, it has a large community of developers, both using the language, as well as contributing to its continued growth.

Unlike many developer conferences, PyCon Australia is a non-profit conference, run entirely by volunteers dedicated to growing the Python developer community in Australia.

Sponsor contributions are used to keep the costs of attending the conference affordable for everyone who is interested in it; profits are invested back into Australian Python and Open Source communities through our parent organisation, Linux Australia.

In 2019, the team from PyCon Australia 2018 returns to once again bring PyCon to Sydney. 2018 saw over 700 attendees, with 2019 set to attract a similar level of participants.

Now is the perfect time to help contribute to this growing, vibrant developer community.
Friday, 2 August 2019 - Specialist Tracks
Curated content from niche communities within Python hold their own individual ‘miniconf’ during the Friday. Previous tracks have included: DjangoCon AU, Education, OpenStack, Security and Privacy, Internet of Things, and more. Selected tracks to be announced Q1 2019.

Saturday & Sunday, 3 - 4 August 2019 - General Conference
Invited local and international speakers will open and close each day, with the main conference schedule running in four tracks. Selected talks will be announced June 2019.

Monday & Tuesday, 5 - 6 August 2019 - Development Sprints
‘Sprints’ are an unstructured activity run after the conference to allow attendees to work on open source projects with fellow conference attendees.
PyCon Australia is attended by a diverse community of delegates, including professionals working with Python, but also enthusiasts and students, attending for their own interest. However, many deserving Python developers cannot afford to attend the conference.

PyCon Australia runs a generous financial assistance scheme to assist delegates who can not otherwise afford to attend the conference. This covers registration, accommodation, and in some cases, travel costs to attend the conference.

The generous contribution of sponsors will help put PyCon Australia 2019 within reach of many more deserving Python developers from across Australia and around the world.
PyCon Australia is an inclusive event which invites diverse groups of people in the Python community to gather in an environment of respect, tolerance, and encouragement.

Our organisation focuses on outreach towards minority groups, for both speakers and general attendees of the conference: our outreach programme includes a wide-ranging financial assistance scheme with applications assessed on a needs basis, and a networking breakfast for women.

There is an enforceable code of conduct, with all complaints treated confidentially and seriously.

There is also an on-the-ground Conduct group -- actively visible members of a group that can be contacted if an issue of attendee safety or comfort occurs. Combined with a 24-7 mobile contact number and a conduct email address, attendees have multiple ways of contacting an organiser or member of the conduct team.

If you are after a more unique approach with your marketing, we can tailor to your needs. Previously we’ve had Catering Sponsors, in which you directly help us pay for attendees morning/afternoon tea. In exchange, your logo appears on the tables setup for the meal.

We also have had a Childcare Sponsor, which supports our on-site creche and professional child minders.

We are also open to discussion of sponsoring of networking events, outreach activities, and anything else you might think would be of interest to attendees.

Please note that PyCon Australia is a dry conference, and no alcohol is served on site.

We love it when sponsors host additional community events, but we ask that these events have their own appropriate code of conduct, and are advertised as third-party events. We’d love to work with you to make these events a success.
